

Biodegradable & plastic-free

PureNature wooden growth sleeve

The PureNature growth sleeve is made of untreated softwood—a natural product that provides robust protection for both coniferous and deciduous trees. The biodegradable trunk protector for trees provides reliable protection against sweeping and browsing. Thanks to the plug connection, the biodegradable growth sleeve can be easily and quickly attached around the tree.

100

Made of wood — biodegradable

0 5 years

Durable in forest climate

Plug connection

Plug connection — for quick and easy assembly

Ecologically safe

OECD 207 and 208

Plug connection:
made of stabilizing wood with tongue-and-groove side
openings

Natural light incidence:
made of stabilizing wood with tongue-and-groove side
openings

Advantages

- 100% plastic-free and biodegradable
- Dimensionally stable and light and temperature neutral
- Healthy growth with natural light exposure
- Ideal heat and cold regulation
- Easy to assemble thanks to 8 interlocking stabilizing wooden pieces

Application

- In hard-to-reach areas
 - Suitable for deciduous and coniferous trees
- Protection of young plants from browsing
- Promotion of straight growth of trees

Robust wooden walls: connected by 8 interlocking stabilizing timbers